

Meteorology Hydrology Water Management covered in Emerging Sources Citation Index (a new version of Web of Science)

We are very pleased to announce that our journal Meteorology Hydrology and Water Management. Research and Operational Applications has been accepted for inclusion in the “Emerging Sources Citation Index” – a new version of the Web of Science. As we have been informed by Mr. Rodney Chonka, Editor of Physical, Chemical & Earth Sciences of Thomson Reuters, the coverage of our journal shall begin with its 2016 volume.

We regard the coverage in ESCI database as a milestone in the history of our journal. Thus, we intend to further improve the editorial quality of our publications and raise the statue of our journal. We wish to thank you all for your support and hope to receive submissions of your high-quality manuscripts in the future.
